

In pursuit of the worldwide movement to address environmental concerns, companies throughout the world are adopting ISO 14001:2015 to achieve and maintain compliance with current environmental requirements, achieve excellence in their operations and reduce costs. With growing competition in the National and International markets it has become an important task to meet the challenges in a cost-effective manner. This training course has been designed by APC to equip delegates with the skill to develop, implement and maintain Environment Management System based on ISO 14001:2015 standard in their company

Duration

2 Days

Content

- Business and the Environment &
- Identification & Analysis of EMS Aspects-Impacts & OHS Hazard-Risks
- ISO 14001:2015 requirements
- ISO 45001:2018 requirements
- Environmental – OHS Legislation
- Documentation for EMS-OHS Management System
- Implementation of EMS –OHS Management System
- Effective Monitoring of an EMS & OHS

Benefits

- Compliance with the latest legislation
- An environmental management system that is beneficial to all stakeholders
- A cost effective management system

Who should attend?

- Quality Managers
- Environmental Managers & Safety Managers
- Staff with responsibility for implementing and auditing EMS management systems